Financial Information

Student bills are due on the Wednesday before classes begin. Students who cannot pay their bills in full before the beginning of the semester will be required to enroll in our payment plan, which allows the student to pay their bill over the course of 5 months.

| Payment plan          | Enrollment fee | Payment schedule                                                                                                                               |

| Semester payment plan | $20           | 5 payments: the first is due before classes start, and the rest are due in the middle of each of the next 4 months, with a 7-day grace period. |

If a payment is missed, a $10 late payment fee will be charged to the student's outstanding balance and the student's account will be locked. The student will no longer have access to registration and transcripts until the account is current.

No Veterans Administration benefits can be applied to costs at Rio Grande. Rio Grande does not accept federal funds (such as Pell Grants) and does not issue Form 1098-T (document required for tax deductions).

Scholarships – Financial Aid

Tuition costs are kept to a minimum thanks to donations. These donations support the faculty and staff. RGBC does not participate in U.S. government programs (Title IV, VA, Pell Grants, etc.). However, for those with genuine need, a tuition scholarship may be available. More information about these scholarships is available in Populi or from the Registrar's Office.
